EVENING. All day the wind had howled along the leas, All day the wind had swept across the plain, All day on rustling grass and waving trees Had fallen "the useful trouble of the rain." All day beneath the low-hing dreary sky, The dripping earth had cowered sullenly.

At last the wind had sobbed itself to rest, At last to weary calmness sank the storm, A crimson line gleamed sudden in the west, Where golden flecks rose wavering into fo A hush revival heralded the night, And with the evening time awoke the light.

frown, Sirds, beast, and flower relenting nature knew, and one pale star rose shimmering to the blue.

So, to a life long crushed in beavy grief,
Bo, to a path long darkened by despair,
The slow sad hours bring touches of belief,
Whispers of hope, and strength of trustru prayer.
"Tarry His leisure." God of love and night,
And with the evening time there will be light: A ROYAL BACE.

BY JAMES M'CARROLL. Among the fine old kings that reign Upon a simple wooden throne, There's one with but a small domain, But, mark you, it is all his own. And though upon his rustic towers No sactest standard waves its wing. Thick, leafy banners fushed with flowers. From all the fragrant casements swing. And there, in royal homespun bow His nut-brown court at night and morn— The bronzed Field Marshall of the Plough, The Chancellor of Wheat and Coru, The keeper of the Golden Stacks, The mistress of the Milking-Pail, The bold Knights of the Ringing Ax. The Heralds of the Sounding Fiail, The Master of the New-mown Hay, The Master of the boade and Hoe, The Minstrels of the Glorious Lay, That all the Sous of Freedom know.

And thus, while on the seasons roll, He wins from the inspiring sod The brawny arm and noble soul That serve his country and his God. PIA DISIDERIA.

BY J. C. BRARD. Jews help me or I perish In this whelming sen of doubt, Give the Truth I fain would cherish, Patth I cannot do without. Despised, elacure, and world forsaken, Yet how rich I would be grown,

Jesus help me or I perish, Words and creeds of men perplex, What reject or what to cherish, 'Mid condicting various sects, Can I choose a mortal guide To ismis where mortals never trod Jesus help me or I perish, shall I lean on man's perversi

"The Wrecker's Daughter;" "The Detect-toe's Story;" "The Maid of Arline,"

"The Wrecker's Daughter": "The Detective Story;" "The Maid of Artine," ter, etc.

CHAPTER XI. (CONTINUED)

Not through the long passages they would bring the world properly the would bring the world properly the p

NORTHERN OHIO JOURNAL.

A FAMILY PAPER, DEVOTED TO LITERATURE, SCIENCE, AGRICULTURE, AND GENERAL NEWS.

VOLUME I.

PAINESVILLE, LAKE COUNTY, OHIO, SATURDAY, APRIL 6, 1872.

NUMBER 39.

dare not—I dare not take advantage of your marvellous devotion. Lilias, I give you back your word. You have redeemed your noble promise an hundred-fold, and by your pure and true intention, you have indeed already brightened all my existence for me. Only to know how you designed to biess me, is more than ever I have dreamed of in my wildest visions. I will carry this my wildest visions. I will carry this sweet recollection with me to the grave was returned, although none were so had assumed an expression of most com was returned, annough none were so had assumed an expression of most com and never can this world be to me again the barren wilderness it has been, when I can but so much as think that a heart "Where none but herself would have "And I am sad—more so than I can but so make the said," "And I am sad—more so than I can be said, "And I am sad—more so than I can be said."

ing voice, her evident sinking at the failure of that which he saw had indeed ike hers, the sacrifice of wealth was nothing, but that they did not perceive him, and he was enabled to follow them, at a neudent distance, till he saw them enter Hubert's been a very agony, such as she never would have felt for the loss of her uncle's would have felt for the loss of her uncle's would have felt for the loss of her uncle's favor. There was no fear for her sufficient.

There was no fear for her sufficiently on the most friendly for the most friendly for the most friendly indeed, any given that they did not perceive him, and he was enabled to follow them, at a neudent distance, till he saw them enter Hubert's like and they did not perceive him, and he was enabled to follow them, at a neudent distance, till he saw them enter Hubert's like and they did not perceive him, and he was enabled to follow them, at a neudent distance, till he saw them enter Hubert's was, as it were, altogether steeped—like the true and false metal which refuse to intermingle.

There was no fear for her sufficiently on the most friendly indeed, any given that they did not perceive him, and he was enabled to follow them, at a neudent distance, till he saw them cuter Hubert's was, as it were, altogether steeped—like the true and false metal which refuse to intermingle.

There was no fear for her sufficiently on the most friendly indeed, any given that they did not perceive him, and he was enabled to follow them, at a neudent distance, till he saw them cuter Hubert's was, as it were, altogether steeped—like the true and false metal which refuse to jar against the duplicity in which his was, as it were. Sufficiently in this matter. It will not prevent my telling all myself to my uncle when I see him.

The idea not represent the following and the perfect truth of her character seemed the truth of her character seemed the perfect truth of her character seemed the truth of her character seemed the truth of the perfect truth of her character seemed the truth of her character seemed the truth of her character seemed the truth of her tout of the reach of possibility that ever she could feel more than the most barren friendship for the deformed cripple. But for himself, when he turned his ment that anyone so much as venturing the continued of the reach of possibility that ever some with Lady Randolph! actually Gabriel, "She continued, "No," said Gabriel, very softly, "I am sure you could never, unassisted, penetrate the artful schemes which are ment that anyone so much as venturing.

own future, there arose up a menacing vision, terrible in its power to torture, of all the utter misery he would bring upon himself, if he admitted a human love brief pondered, whether he had not bets by heart for that he must love ber. This was braving her that anyone so much as venturing penetrate the arful schemes which are to speak to him would forever forfeit his favor and estate. This was braving her two kagainst you. That frank, constitute at work against you. That frank are set in a certain design. It was braveled at work against you. The frank are set in a certain design. The form the perfect rectitude and candot which had been as her guardian angels hitherto. Poor Lilias! her freedom of brief pondered, whether he had not bets.

words.
"Oh, noble, noble child!" he said, "eternal blessings be upon you for this deed of heavenly charity. Believe me, were I condemned to explate this moment of joy in long years of suffering, I yet would gladly buy it with them! But surley it must suffice me for my life. I dare not—I dare not—with his deep eyes fixed upon her with a longing, indescribable gaze, as though he sought to gather into his soul, and treasure up forever, the slightest detail Randolph," replied Walter with a very dolph's favorite walk, and he determined patiently to mount guard on the terrace till they should return to the house, in order that at least he might gain some clue to the nature of their conversation from the expression of their conversation of all your suppose the destruction of all your congents and for the destruction of all your congents. countenances. But he was destined to whom sife did not like, for some instinct-have a better reward for his patience ive reason which she could not have exthan he had hoped, for they passed him quite close, although they were so completely absorbed in their own thoughts that they did not perceive him, and he was embled to follow them, at a nrudent the perfect truth of her character seemed sacrifice she sought to make to him.

He turned to her, his mournful voice thrilling with an excess of feeling which he felt he had no power to express in words.

Hour when she was to completely be said.

Hour when she was to coupled by means of her clear, fresh voice, in bringing walter to the conclusion, that the Vale of Avoca must be the most desirable residence in the world, always provided with a check. An instinctive terror seemed to take possession of me at sight look!" she said,

"And I am sad—more so than I I can but so much as think that a nearly like yours is beating in it. But I say again, I dare not let you rob yourself of one shadow of earthly blessing for my wretched sake."

His voice died away, but he remained this voice died away, but he remained the large out-"Not to her, but to one who is also straightforward."

very dear to me, as a cousin should be,— I mean yourself, Lilias," about to hear hereif this spekes, set, had power operation for a continue of the spekes and the power of the bert, he will require you to leave the Abbey which would be no light misfortune to yourself. Now, I positively assure you that I can prevent this, if you will but allow me to tell him of the step this concession from her, but she left her sight of in the loud rush and conflict of cousin with an uneasy feeling, as if she these busy times. hitherto. Poor Lilias! her freedom of section was gone with her liberty of the very rature of the request I made must have convinced you that my motive was one of pure friendship to yourself, and pity for Lyle. It cannot be supposed that it is very much for my interest that the chosen heiress should retain Sir Michael's favor."

This speech told admirably, intended as it was to work on her feelings. She held out her hand to Gabriel—

"I did not mean to be unjust to you, Gabriel. You are very kind, and—and you can do as you will in this matter. It be natched away ere he could slake his thirst for earth's affections. It was not take his the concern. "I am a perfect solitude of spirit that he thought thus, nor yet because of his former resolitude of spirit that he thought thus, nor yet because of the torture it would be to him that he dared not accept the past sacrifices he sought to her, but only because it seemed to him that he dared not accept the vast assertifies he sought to make to him.

He turned to her, his mournful voice the filling with an excess of feeling which he felt he had no power to express in the felt he had no power to express in the felt he had no power to express in the felt he had no power to express in third for Avoca must be the most desirable, and the filling this flatter to the conclusion, that the vicinity of or over this the vicinity of or over this these outlets, or that the vicinity of or over the water and shift preserved among the records of the said, with a feigned and the vicinity of or over third the vicinity of or over the water and filt a feigned and the vicinity of or over third the vicinity of or over third the vicinity of or over the cauthing as if for support.

"Why, how you tremble, Lilias." said Gabriel, with evident concern. "I am a fraid I alarmed you. I am truly sorry, indeed—I did not intend to do so." "In the proceedings of his litter throught thus, nor yet because of any dread of the torture it would be to him most of them train, concern when he he altower the substance of the general amongth records of the used for heating and the vert these outlets, or that the worth the sale of the general amongth, the eccolor of the cathen of the chain game the elevent of the cathen of the chain game the elevent of the general amongth records of the two that obtained any to contend any to do the conting into a street car at Shelby street.

"I allias," he exclaimed with a feigned of the torture and the v

A PLEA FOR NIGHT AIR. But in Heaven's name what air, as Miss Nightingale says, can we breathe sure you that I can prevent this, if you will but allow me to tell him of the step you have taken before you mention it yourself."

"You!" She looked at him in great conduct, and he would see to their propyourself."

"You!" She looked at him in great astonishment.

"Yes. You would not suspect me, I dare say, of having that influence with him which is really mine, but circumstances of late have caused him to repose much confidence in me, although I am no favorite, and as far as possible from being the heir," he added with a smile.

"I would much rather tell him myself." said Lilias. "I shrink from any mode: A mmen was in a distant part of mode of the fact. Did you ever test these two kinds of night air by going early in the morning into the room of a person brought up to sleep with think him in earnest, and proceeded with their plans. Their chief, Kelley, was a young fellow of six feet four inches, very athletic and determined. When the demonstration was made Commoder as well arranged, however healthy, neat, "Sold to the register in the base of pattern in the base of the fair, sweet language now before language now language its airing. And with the equipoise of circulation good humor comes, and cheer-fulness, and the capacity to be amused. How we lose these things-how dull we glow stewing over registers or before freeze; we don't laugh or enjoy, we simply endure life, and with desperate

Thank God, some of us have an old-fashioned mother-not a woman of the period, enamelled and painted, with her great chignon, her curls bottines, whose white jeweled hands have never felt the clasp of baby fingers, but a dear, oldded by his happiness, and not by her own poor judgment.

Gabriel lost no time in availing himself of her half reluctant permission. He hurried to find his uncle, who was ever ready to receive him, when he came with any tidings of the progress of his plan, respecting Lilia.

At Lawrence, Kansas, a fire broke out king has learned to wear shirts and

George H. Knapp, Post-master at Or- General that "his sword was never drawn Murphy's body was found in the ruins, burned almost to a cinder.

A German named George Schwabb aged about sixty-five, entered a saloon in St. Louis, on Tuesday and sat down in a chair. A few minutes after, the keeper, supposing he had fallen asleep, went to wake him up and found him dead. He had been for some time destitute and wandering about, and death resulted from old age and want of food.

Trains on the Belleville and Southern Illinois Railroad have been stoned lately, and the lives of passengers endangered, by a gang of scoundrels near Pinckneyville. On Thursday night last while being searched by the City Mar-shal one of them drew a knife and stab-shal one of them drew a knife and stab-in Wall street says that he would rather perish of thirst than drink Croton water. two men were arrested in the act, and inches long, whereupon the Marshal shot the desperado dead.

The Times and Chronicle's Louisville special says the steamer Charmer, in dewhen the demonstration was made composed. It shrink from any course which is not perfectly open and straightforward."

"I do not propose any thing to you which is otherwise," said Gabriel, with named Dorn, on the Air Line Railroad, two miles beyond Georgetown, Indiana, and insulting Mrs. Dorn, was put out leaving his hat. A son of O'Brien, reputed half witted, went after the hat, and struck and kicked Mrs. D., who seized an ax and struck him a fearful blow in the back of the head. He made his way staggering and crawling to the his way staggering and crawling to the chants where he boarded, and lingered dead of whom I borrowed the money."

The Southern express train on the Connecticut and the other in Massachuclasp of baby fingers, but a dear, old-fashioned, sweet-voiced, mother, with eyes in whose depths the love light shone, and brown hair threaded with silver, lying smoothly upon her faded cheek. Those dear hands, worn with toil, which guided our tottering steps in childhood, and smoothed our pillow in childhood. toil, which guided our tottering steps in childhood, and smoothed our pillow in sickness. Blessed is the memory of an old-fashioned mother. It floats to us now like the beautiful perfume of some woodland blossoms. The music of other woodland blossoms woodland

The strains of the country of the strains of the country of the co

Business notices in local columns will be charginsertion and eight cents per line for each sub-Business cards 1.25 per line per annum.

ADVERTISING RATES. ONE INCH IN SPACE MAKES A SQUARE.

Yearly advertisers discontinuing their adverents before the expiration of their contra will be charged according to the above rates. Transient advertisements must invariable be paid for in advance. Regular advertisements to be paid at the expiration of each quarter

Strange antipodean phase of things current-spring in New York, fall in Siam is becoming civilized, and its

A Wisconsin editor speaks of a wind which "just sat on its hind legs and howled."

Buenos Ayres monkeys suffer from the A cotemporary says of a prominent

The Scandinavian settlers in Illinois fully approve the new liquor law. They A Southern editor oracularly affirms that the ladies of that latitude have done nothing to deserve the imputation of in-A belle of Richmond, Va., imports her stockings from Paris at $42 a pair, and crowds flock to see them whenever she

A brain-working gentleman residing at a corner of the great thoroughfare complains that his bread is jeopardized

Ritualism a folly of the fashionable few? Oh, dear! no. On the contrary, the Ritualists are doing all in their power to adapt their services to the masses. Another organ of woman's rights has been established in Chicago, under the title of the Balance; perhaps to indicate that where there's a will there's a weigh.

A jilted Arkansas lover being much "cut up" by his rejection, literally cut out his successful rival with a broad-axe last week, and then went and axed the lady again. An incongruous person says that he considers the glass cubs, or "crystals," legitimate objects for the attention of Mr. Bergh, since they inflict so much pane on the horses. An imposter whose mind is of an inquisitive turn keeps continually asking whether, 'in the general order of things, Mr. Grant is likely to serve another term as President of the United States."

studying medicine in the German univer-sities, the Cultus Minister deciding that there is no demand for lady doctors, and that female physic would be a mere drug

Women are still to be debarred from

When remonstrated with by an abstemious friend, he retorted, "Pray, sir, do you eat Croton bugs?" General Brownlow (ominous name telegraphs from India to the "paternal" British government that twenty villages have been destroyed by him, and all the Southern Howlongs subjugated. "Howlong, oh, Lord, Howlong?

O'Baldwin, the "Irish giant," flings

A new religious sect has sprung up in Saint (Susan B.) Authony will probably be canonized as their great gun, since her famous 'pistle against double beds clearly defines her position as a The Duke of Argyll has contributed for the relief of the Chicago sufferers a customs of India, comprising, among other things, jurisprudence and medical practice, including, of course, the surgi-cal management of Indiaries, Newly-devised nosebags for the ac-commodation of work-horses when at lunch have small air-holes in them cov-

his sleep, was devised with a vie proving the breathe of horses, Poulterers say that chickens will be but it is natural that the little birds should always be poor, since, from the shanty where he boarded, and lingered till Monday, when he died. Dorn and wife came to New Albany on Monday, and left yesterday by the Jeffersonville, Madison and Indianapolis Railroad, and have not been heard from since.

Will be more precarious, as the man is dead of whom I borrowed the money."

Two men having arranged to fight a duel in Rhode Island, the Governor issued a proclamation forbidding it, where upon one of the parties sent him a note and in the control of the parties sent him a note and in the control of the parties sent him a note and in the control of the parties sent him a note and in the control of the parties sent him a note and in the control of the parties sent him a note and in the control of the parties sent him a note and in the control of the parties sent him a note and in the control of the parties sent him a note and in the control of the parties sent him a note and in the control of the parties sent him a note and in the control of the parties sent him a note and in the control of the parties sent him a note and in the control of the parties and the control of the parties sent him a note and in the control of the parties sent him a note and in the control of the parties and the control of the parties sent him a note and in the control of the parties and the control of the control